COLLECTIVE BARGAINING BIG ISSUE IN COAL STRIKE

Wage Question Incidental To Broader Contest

NOW IN COURTS

Criminal And Civil Proceedings Under Way

(China Press Service)

Toledo, April 5.—The Ohio Collieries Co., the largest operators in Ohio, declined to attend the proposed joint conference of operators and miners in Washington on April tenth.

Pittsburgh, April 5.—Pittsburg Vein Operators Association turned down the coal conference proposal.

Pittsburgh Coal Producers Association also flatly declined attend operators and miners proposed conference Washington.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 3.—Back of the coal strike lies the issue whether the present form of collective bargaining—the negotiations that take place between employers and employes acting in groups on a wage contract—shall survive in the coal industry. The present form has developed during the last four decades.

As it exists in the soft coal industry, collective bargaining began in 1885, that year marking the first interstate joint conference of the organised miners and their employers. In the anthracite regions of Pennsylvania, it grew out of the great strike of 1902 which was settled by a commission, named by Theodore Roosevelt, then president.

But today, especially in the soft coal fields, the joint movement of operators and miners, such being the trade reference to the collective bargaining system, faces an unprecedented situation. No interstate wage conference seems probable because of the refusal of some operators to continue the present system; both criminal and civil proceedings in the federal court here attack the legality of the whole bargaining movement alleging that it is a conspiracy to boost the price of coal.

MANY CHANGES

Since the beginning of the interstate joint agreement, many changes have come in the coal industry, among them the following: Eight hour day for miners and mine laborers; universal mine-run basis for determining tonnage on which wages are based; increased wages; abolition of company stores, commonly known as "pluck-mes"; better mining laws; improved working conditions, "check off" of union dues, and continuity of labor supply.

The interstate movement, as it has been practiced in the past history of the soft coal industry, consists of the operators and miners each drafting a set of demands. The miners invariably asked wage increases and the operators asked wage reduction or changed working conditions or both, each side usually asking more than either expected. The result of the negotiations between operators and miners fixed wage rates and working conditions for the so-called Central Competitive Field, composed of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois and Indiana.

BASIS OF WAGES

For all other soft coal states, wages are based on the Central Competitive Field rates. Similarly, the union anthracite miners and operators—all in Pennsylvania—negotiate agreements. The miners' union is not recognised by the anthracite operators except that officials of the union have since 1903 appeared in joint meetings with the operators and their employes as representatives of the latter.

Although in existence many years the system of bargaining in the soft coal fields is now being attacked in both criminal and civil proceedings pending in the federal court here. More than 200 operators, miners and retailers are charged in an indictment with conspiracy to violate the anti-trust laws by combining to restrain trade, and force unfair prices upon the consuming public.

Britain Explains Debt Note To Allies

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 7.—It is officially pointed out that Britain's Note to her Allied debtors, mentioned yesterday, does not constitute a demand for the payment of interest, but merely gives the Allied debtors notice that the British Government's freedom of action is restored, owing to the expiration of the understanding for a three years' suspension of interest to Britain provided for in the budget of 1922-23 for the payment of interest to the United States and that it is not wished that Parliament's hands should be tied by action or inaction with regard to the Allied debts.

Laborites Lose At Polls In Britain

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 6.—With the exception of Popular and Shoreditch, where they gained respectively 5 and 6 seats with increased majorities, and also the successes in St. George's in the East and Mile end, the Laborites were crushingly defeated in the elections to the Board of Guardians in London, notably at Lewisham, Hammersmith, Chelsea, Fulham, Lambert, Westminster and Paddington, where all the Laborites were defeated.

At Woolwich the Laborites now number 11 as against 18 hitherto, at Stepney there are now 3 as compared with 14; at Wandsworth there are 11 compared with 21; at Southwark there is now 1 out of 30, and at Marylebone there are 3 out of 24.

New Charges Made In Bottomley Case

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 6.—On the resumption of the Bottomley case the prosecution announced two new charges of fraudulently converting £6,500 and £10,000 of War Stock Combination Bonds.

It was alleged that Mr. Bottomley paid the former to the Official Receiver for winding up the John Bull Investment Trust and the latter to settle a debt with a stockbroker.

SIR J. JORDAN SAYS OPIUM TRADE SHOWS BIG INCREASE

China Producing One Third As Much As In 1907

INDIA CENSURED

Society For Suppression Of Drug Meets In London

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

London, April 5.—The meeting of the Society for the Suppression of the opium Trade was held at Central Hall, Westminster, today. Sir William Collins said that the Powers signing the Peace Treaty were pledged to give effect to the decision of the Hague Convention on opium traffic, but progress was painfully slow.

The production of British morphia was greatly in excess of the requirements for legitimate uses and he ventured to say that the world's production of opium and its products was also grossly in excess of medical and legitimate uses. They had the Dangerous Drugs Act but he would like to know why similar legislation should not apply to India where more than 150,000 acres were under poppy cultivation.

With regard to the British manufacture of morphia, he regretted to say that up to a few weeks ago there was no really effective control of operation.

Sir John Jordan gave the history of the steps taken in China to suppress the opium traffic and recalled that when the last stage was reached there remained in the hands of foreign importers in Shanghai 1,200 chests of opium. The Government of India was prepared to buy back this surplus quantity but His Excellency, President Hsu Shih-chang, he said, bought the lot and burned it although the current value was £4,000,000.

Sir John Jordan was sorry to say that there had been a considerable lapse from the high standard reached by China. Some provinces now produced, he said, about one-third of the quantity of opium which China produced in 1907. He said that there were practical difficulties in the way of adequate suppression.

One of these was that the Indian Government derived considerable revenue from opium. That Government had sacrificed £4,000,000 in revenue already and if pressed to make further sacrifices might retort that China was already producing for herself what India was precluded from exporting into China.

The Chinese Charge d'Affaires, Mr. Chu Chao-hsin, spoke of the genuine efforts made by the Chinese Government to rid its people of this terrible scourge. The Government entirely sympathised with the anti-opium movement and although opium was still grown in China, the evil was very small as compared with the importation of morphia. He was sorry to have to say that most of the morphia came from those countries where an anti-opium movement was carried on with the greatest energy.

Miss Lamotte said that the attitude of the British Empire on the question was a real stumbling-block to a better understanding with America.

Chita General Appeals To Patriotism Of Molchanoff, Leader Of White Guards

In Stirring Letter He Shames Countryman For Helping Foreigner Prosecute War On Their Common Motherland—Promises Kind Treatment If He Surrenders

(Dalta News Agency)

CHITA, March 30.—The following is a translation of a letter written by Mr. Bliuher, Commander-in-Chief of the Far Eastern Republic, to General Molchanoff, leader of the White Guards in the Maritime Province:

The desire to prevent the unnecessary shedding of the blood of the people forces me to address to you the following:

The play which was originated at the Vladivostok stock-exchange under the leadership of Japanese and other managers is now coming to its natural end. Therefore, though I am aware of the brutality of the class you belong to and the interests you are defending by the support of the deceived remnants of the former army, I would like, however, to appeal once more to your conscience as to a Russian.

What do you intend to do with those Russian officers and soldiers who, because of physical fear and a longing for home, were forced to entrust their fate to you for the last and hopeless attempt to attack Moscow with Japanese money, beginning the attack many thousands of miles away from the Kremlin (in Moscow)?

CAIN'S BUSINESS

Do you realise that you are doing Cain's business by pressing upon us in the Martime Province and thus helping the Japanese diplomats at Dairen to humiliate the honor and dignity of Russia? I was at Dairen as a member of the military delegation and am aware of the work going on behind the screen. I am also aware of the fact that Merkuloff agrees to every humiliation only to save his own trading business.

So what sun do you prefer to shine in the Russian Far East? That on the Japanese flag or the rising sun of New Russia which is beginning to warm our country after the revolutionary storm?

What fate do you prefer to choose? That of Kolchak, Wrangel and Ungern or the lot of an honest citizen of Revolutionary Russia?

You declare everywhere—at Vladivostok and Harbin, in the bars, churches and the press—that you fight for a great Russia, for her national renaissance and against the Bolshevists who are leading an anti-national policy.

Is that true?

You are a political leader and not an ignorant soldier who can be easily deceived by press propaganda, and you certainly understand the present international relations and know very well that the authority of the Bolshevists saved the country from being devoured by the international imperialistic sharks. You also know that the Soviet Government, notwithstanding the difficulties it faced, has not yielded a single inch of Russian soil to foreign pretenders. Quite differently from the Bolshevists have the various "Russian provisional governments" behaved, besieging the foreign legations and banks.

ONLY SOVIET UNSTAINED

Who has until now performed a national task, though having international aims?

Only the Soviet authority and no other. And this Russian authority which has proved that it is capable of existing would soon be recognised by the European powers.

And who has until now abused and mocked at the very name of Russia, not speaking of the civil war and the misery brought on the country.

Those who have at every crossway in all foreign capitals proclaimed their love of Russia and invited others to fight her and the Bolshevists who have the support of the workers and peasants—they, who have proclaimed themselves Russians, are in fact only foreign agents. Those who at present carry into the Far Eastern Republic on their own shoulders Asiatic masters who love Russia and everything Russian as the wolves love the lamb, are also merely foreign agents.

Everyone understands that it is ridiculous to attempt to settle the problem of the reconstruction of Russia at Vladivostok. Therefore, there must be something else beneath all this.

Give your thoughts to the matter. Many great Russian brains, not mentioning those who live in the country and labor for her economic reconstruction, after taking everything into consideration have become convinced that any attempt to bring back the old, even through the former constituent assembly, will be disastrous for the people and will inflict unspeakable suffering on them.

The Russian people have not only crushed the adventures of Denikin, Wrangel and others, but they will be able to overcome any future difficulties, for such is the historical march. And if this march is considered by some, who call themselves Russians, as the road to Golgotha, then it is not the fault but the misfortune of the people whose standard of civilisation is low and who are slowly with great difficulty recovering their economic life ruined by the imperialistic and civil wars.

REVOLUTION WILL LIVE

I will not speak of your latest attempt to cause unnecessary suffering upon the people of the Far Eastern Republic. That will also be liquidated in the historical process of restoration of Russia, as other attempts in the West most efficiently organised in a technical way were crushed.

More Russian blood will be shed but that will not force the people to abandon their revolutionary victories and give up the new form of government.

I am a soldier of the revolution and want to speak to you

LITTLE HOPE FOR PEACE IN ERIN; RAIDERS ACTIVE

Armed Bands Stop Railway Trains, Burn Goods

(China Press Service)

London, April 6.—Newspapers say that the situation in Ireland is becoming more dangerous owing to the growing antagonism of the Republicans towards the Free State. Reports are conflicting for some say revolution is imminent while others declare a conference of conciliation has been arranged between the opposing factions.

Dundalk, April 6.—War against Ulster merchandise continues. Armed bands raided railroad depots destroying merchandise and newspapers today.

Dublin, April 6.—One hundred young men from Tralee proceeding to Dublin to join the Free State army were intercepted at Mallow by a strong party of Republicans. A clash occurred wherein it is reported one Free Stater was wounded and all Free State men were taken prisoners and confined at Duttevant, County Cork.

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 6.—All trains proceeding southward from Ulster today were stopped by armed men at Dundalk and goods from Belfast burned.

Republican troops also intercepted the Mallow train from Tralee and captured a hundred recruits for the pro-Treaty army in Dublin.

(China Press Service)

Belfast, April 6.—Sir James Craig has informed the Ulster parliament that he had received assurances that the Southern provisional government intended to enforce peace, making the prospects for Ulster much brighter.

Belfast, April 6.—A police patrol at Lough Aillan was fired on yesterday and one constable killed, according to reports reaching here today.

ULSTER HAS ADVISER

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 6.—Major General Arthur Solly-Flood has been appointed Military Adviser to the North Irish Government, his duties comprising the making of plans to repel invasion and to suppress Irish Republican Army activities in the six counties.

Banker Advises Caution In East

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 6.—At the meeting of the Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China, Sir ontagu Turner, in summarising the position of the Eastern market generally, said that the export markets, in the main, showed very little life. Import markets had improved to the extent that accumulated stocks were being gradually worked off, but it would be absolute folly on the part of shippers here to pour in fresh supplies, which were not needed. The motto should be "Slow and sure" until the depression had disappeared and the purchasing power of consumers nearer normal.

PRINCE HAS BUSY DAY AT HONGKONG; SEES TROOPS

Royal Visitor Reviews Colony Soldiers

LOUDLY CHEERED

Gets Great Reception At Gymkhana Games

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, April 7.—The Prince of Wales this morning reviewed the British troops in the Colony on the parade ground, after which he inspected a large turn-out of school-children and the 102nd Grenadiers on the Cricket Ground.

The University of Hongkong conferred the degree of Doctor of Laws (honoris causa) on His Royal Highness. In the course of his address, the Vice-Chancellor announced that the Rockefeller Foundation had donated half a million Hongkong dollars for the foundation of two full-time chairs in medicine and surgery.

Later, the Prince laid the foundation stone of the new St. Stephen's Girls' College and subsequently received a Masonic address.

Hongkong, April 7.—The Prince of Wales attended the gymkhana this afternoon and was repeatedly and vociferously cheered. From the Governor's Stand His Royal Highness walked to the paddock and then to the bandstand where he conversed with the bandsmen. The Prince watched the last two races from the Stewards' Stand where he spoke with Mr. G. C. Potts of Shanghai and Mr. H. Birkett, clerk of the course.

CHATER'S ADDRESS

Sir Paul Chater afterwards made the following address:

May it please Your Royal Highness: Sir:

I would crave permission to draw attention to the several Royal Statues with which Statue Square is decorated and of which we are in this Colony justly proud.

In the center is the statue of Your August Great Grandmother "Victoria the Good," erected by public subscription to commemorate the Jubilee of Her Reign and unveiled on the 28th of May 1896. In close proximity stand the statues of Your Royal Grandfather and Grandmother, erected to commemorate Their Coronation, the Statue of Queen Alexandra (whom may God long preserve) being subscribed for by the community, while it was my privilege to present to this Colony that of His Majesty King Edward the Seventh.

At the same time it was thought fitting further to augment the decoration of the Square by statues of Your Royal Father and Mother, then Prince and Princess of Wales, and these were respectively presented to the Colony by two of our leading merchants. The Statues of His Majesty the King Edward and of Your Royal Father were unveiled in February, 1907, by Your Illustrious Great-Uncle, His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, on the occasion of his second visit to this Island.

Now, Sir, I would pray Your Royal Highness to permit me, as a fitting commemoration of Your visit to the Colony, to adorn our Square by the addition of a Statue of Your Royal Highness.

The Prince replied asking Sir Paul Chater to devote the money to an object of more practical good to Hongkong.

FOG ENVELOPES CITY

Hongkong, April 7.—A thick mist practically enveloped the Island yesterday and today, but despite this unfavorable circumstance the main scheme of illuminations—brilliant alike in general conception and in detail—was not seriously interfered with.

The Queen Victoria Memorial in the Square sparkled in variegated lights, to which the surrounding stately buildings, all delightfully illuminated in different schemes, including the Law Courts, the Hongkong Club, Queen's and Prince's Buildings and the Hongkong Bank, furnished a background of transcending beauty.

The facade of the Hongkong Bank displayed an enormous "Wayfoong" flag in red and white bulbs. All the public buildings, notably the Post Office, were tastefully illuminated. The Hongkong Hotel was a veritable fairyland of soft colored lights, while St. George's Building and others in the vicinity vied with each other in beauty of display.

Thousands of colored lights at the Kowloon Dock went to form the Prince's feather—a most striking spectacle, while the facade of the Kowloon Railway Station blazed in red from end to end.

All the British warships, Japanese cruisers and American and Portuguese gunboats were outlined in light from stem to stern, while nearly every other ship in the harbor was illuminated in some form or other. No spectacle of equal brilliance has ever been witnessed in this port.

Unfortunately the mist shut out from view part of the magnificent scheme of decorations on the hill sides and the Peak.

The Prince, accompanied by the Governor and their staffs, made a tour of the harbor aboard a steam tender to view the illuminations.

There was a particularly fine display of fireworks by the Japanese during the evening.

MR. G. A. TISDALL MANAGER IN EAST FOR ASIA BANK

Mr. G. A. Tisdall was appointed General Manager in the Orient for the Asia Banking Corporation at a meeting of the Board of Directors held on March 14 in New York, it was announced by the local offices of the bank yesterday.

Mr. Tisdall has assumed his duties and will shortly leave on a trip to the various branches of the bank. Meanwhile, Mr. S. Metz, vice-president, will remain in Shanghai until Mr. Tisdall's return.

To Hold Parade In Aid Of Russ Famine Fund On April 15

A parade in aid of the Russian famine relief fund will be held under the auspices of the Russian Famine Relief Campaign Committee on April 15 at 1 p.m., according to the decision of the committee at a meeting held yesterday at the Y.M.C.A.

The procession will include bands of the various orphanages in Shanghai, automobiles and auto trucks, Boy Scouts and students of local schools. Several companies will take moving pictures of the parade.

Pootung Millhands Seek Wage Increase

Following the increase of wages granted to their millhands by Messrs. Butterfield and Swire, mill workers in Pootung are now agitating for higher pay. It is reported that at a recent meeting of the laborers a committee of 20 was appointed to formulate plans for the demand. The cost of living for each individual is more than 40 cents a day, while the workers are only paid on an average of 30 cents per day, according to their statements.

HAS BANQUE PLAN

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, April 4.—Mr. Hsieh Shou-chiang, former member of the House of Representatives, sent a petition to the President last week asking for the Chinese shareholders of the Peking Tramway Company to be allowed to subscribe the capital original alloted to the Bank Industrielle de Chine, on the ground that as the bank is in suspension its share in the company should no longer be recognised. The matter has been referred to the Ministry of the Interior for consideration.

Soviet Envoys Arrive At Genoa For Conference

(Reuter's Service)

Genoa, April 6.—Great precautions on the entire journey within the Italian frontier were taken to ensure the safety of the Russian delegation to the Genoa Conference, numbering fifty-five, which has arrived here.

The train was surrounded by Carbinieri at every stopping place. The Russians displayed a disinclination to emerge immediately they arrived, evidently desiring to avoid attention. Subsequently they proceeded to their hotel in motor cars preceded and followed by detachments of military cyclists.

Genoa, April 6.—The Russian delegation arrived here today. Extraordinary precautions were taken at the stations at Genoa, where the authorities welcomed them, from where the delegates motored to their hotel, but no disorders occurred.

London, April 7.—Mr. Lloyd George, Sir L. Worthington-Evans, Sir Robert Horne and others have left for Genoa. Mr. Lloyd George will confer with M. Poincare in Paris.

London, April 6.—Lord Curzon is ill in bed and he will be unable to accompany Mr. Lloyd George to Genoa tomorrow. He hopes to be able to go on Monday.

Genoa, April, 6.—The Japanese delegation to the Economic Conference has arrived here.

Paris, April 6.—On the eve of the Genoa Conference, M. Poincare summoned the four French delegates and also the experts, and explained that his view of France's role at the Conference was that the Conference should be kept to discussions of strictly economic and not political questions.

He declared that the delegates must refer every decision to the Government, and concluded by stating that France would not be bound by the recommendations of the Conference, which would have to be ratified by Parliament.

The Hague, April 6.—In the Second Chamber today, the Foreign Minister, Jonkheer van Karnebeek, replying to the Communist, M. van Ravenstyn, said, that the preparatory work of the Dutch delegation to the Genoa Conference had been rendered difficult because the Government had not yet received a reply to its note asking for information in regard to the lines on which the solution of the Russian problem would be sought, consequently the Government had to maintain a waiting attitude. He said that the Government was anxious to avoid anything that might lead to disagreement.

The motion of M. van Ravenstyn in favour of the Government working at Genoa for the re-establishment of commercial relations with Russia and the reconsideration of the Treaty of Versailles was opposed by M. Troelstra the Socialist leader.

DUTCH POLICY

Jonkheer van Karnebeek deprecated laying down a policy for the Dutch delegation to Genoa in advance. The Chamber rejected M. van Ravenstyn's motion by 82 votes to 5. A debate then began on the Navy Budget and the Bill for the reorganisation of the fleet which had been opposed as unnecessary after the Washington Conference.

Jonkheer van Karnebeek declined to postpone his departure to Genoa on account of the debate and addressed the Chamber today. He said that although Holland's position in the Pacific was more secure since the Washington Conference they had still to contend with the possibility of being obliged to maintain neutrality in the event of a conflict between other parties.

The Chamber decided by a vote of 56 to 15 to adjourn the debate on the Bill until Jonkheer van Karnebeek returned from Genoa.

(Rosta News Agency)

Moscow, March 25.—The People's Commissar of Foreign Affairs, Mr. Chicherin, has made the following statement on the question of the Genoa conference.

"In spite of the sceptical attitude of some governments towards the Genoa conference and in spite of the hostile attitude of others, all governments are busily preparing. The experts of the Entente are working out plans for the conference. The Russian Government has protested against the idea of being confronted at Genoa with projects previously worked out without the participation of Russia.

FACE STUBBORN FIGHT

"The Russian delegation must be ready for a stubborn fight with the leading bourgeois governments by presenting its own precisely worked out materials. Nothing has been learned of the preparations of the Entente's experts.

"The information obtainable in the press service is to disguise the true intentions of the Entente. These experts and their governments will conceal their materials and their propositions till the end of the conference. The Russian delegation will be compelled to follow a similar policy.

"The principle defining the position of the Russian delegation is the firm defence of the inviolability of the Soviet system, the sovereignty rights of the Russian state, as well as the economic foundation of the Soviet system, the abolishment of which would endanger the existence of the Soviet system and enslave the laboring people of Russia. Strict observance of this principle is quite compatible with the entering into transactions with foreign capital. The transactions, strictly framed in agreements and sufficiently advantageous to the other party, should guarantee the re-establishment of the industry and transport in Russia.

RESOURCES BOUNDLESS

"The natural resources of Russia are immeasurable and we lack only implements of production. All the necessities for the re-establishment of our economy we could obtain in the form of loans and by giving concessions to foreign capital. This would not interfere with the rights and the authority of the workmen and peasants and would give the people's economy of Russia advantages which were not to be obtained otherwise.

"This does not deprive Russia of her natural resources but develops her economy by securing the necessary implements for transport and industry in return for some profit to the foreign capital. This is a question of mutual advantage and not of mutual sacrifices. The lack of Russian raw materials is being keenly felt by the world industry and this necessitates the development of Russian economy.

"The bourgeois governments stand in need of that economic co-operation with Soviet Russia which is indispensable for the economic welfare of Russia as well as of the world.

"Extremely complicated questions requiring most thorough discussion are outstanding for the Genoa conference. Whatever its results may be, the Genoa conference will be only a station on the way to the full realisation of its program.

STARTING PLACE

"If we do not reach any agreements at Genoa, we are going to reach them later, but still this is the place where we can lay a foundation of mutual understanding. An understanding with other states must result in a full recognition of Soviet Russia. It is necessary not for ceremonial but for purely practical business purposes.

"The policy of intervention has also to be abandoned by foreign governments as well as their support of Russian White bands systematically invading our territory, and the foreign states are to guarantee the inviolability of the Soviet system of the Russian Government. The indispensability of these conditions has already been realised by other governments which have forwarded these principles at the Cannes conferences.

"To the doubtful questions to be settled at Genoa or later belong that of the claims of foreign governments and private persons and our claims against the leaders of the intervention in Russia. However complicated these questions may be they have to be solved in the near future. Economic necessity requires this from us and from the foreign governments."

DEFENDANT GIVES TESTIMONY IN POMEROY SUIT

The taking of testimony for the defense was begun before Judge Peter Grain of the British Supreme Court yesterday in the claim brought by Mr. P. F. Pomeroy against Mr. H. Quelch in which wrongful dismissal is alleged and other damages are asked.

The forepart of the session was taken up with the conclusion of Mr. Ranald G. MacDonald's opening speech for the defense. He told of Mr. Quelch being in Vancouver at the time Mr. Pomeroy was leaving Shanghai for that port, the former being very anxious to get in touch with anyone doing business there. Mr. Pomeroy could easily have instructed him to wait. On learning of the plaintiff's proposed departure he had wired him to await his, defendant's, arrival. Counsel submitted that Mr. Pomeroy was very glad that he did not have to face Mr. Quelch with matters standing as they did. The plaintiff's abuse of his employer was an endeavor to place on the latter's shoulders the blame for an excess of cargo which the firm then had. Counsel submitted that the Canadian venture made by Mr. Pomeroy was a wild gamble. Mr. Pomeroy had wired Mr. Quelch that he was trying to recover the firm's losses by the Canadian trip. But if the figures were as suggested by the plaintiff—that a profit of Tls. 32,000 had been made—what was he referring to when he spoke of trying to recover losses?

Mr. Quelch, on being called to the box as the first witness, said that Mr. Pomeroy joined him in March 1915 as an assistant at a salary of $250 plus commission of 5 percent on sales over $1,000. He left in October 1916 without giving any notice but was again taken on early in 1917. He was then told that he could not absent himself without leave and was reminded of this again in 1918 and told that if it happened again he would be dismissed.

Speaking of his trip to Europe the witness stated that it was in the firm's interests and plaintiff had been left in charge here. He was told that he must be very careful as witness considered the year would be a difficult one. The instructions left for him plaintiff had agreed were fair and he also agreed that the $700 which he was to be allowed to draw each month was reasonable.

The witness said he had agreed to take over plaintiff's house near Vancouver after looking at it. He considered on his departure that the business was in a condition such that it might be carried on by almost anyone and some payments had been made.

The Canadian property had been transferred to witness by plaintiff's agent. It was a five-room house in a "doubtful state of repair." It was located, witness said, in a very moribund mining camp where property could be bought for almost any cash sum offered. Witness had heard from the proprietor of a hotel there that he had bought his building—of forty rooms—for $1,800 and he considered that $2,000 was a very fair valuation for Mr. Pomeroy's house.

When witness arrived in England he found that no money had been forwarded for him as according to instructions and his position was very difficult. During his stay he was even forced to go to the pawnshops. Witness left England by borrowing £600 from two firms with which he had been dealing for years, a thing which he considered very unpleasant to have to do.

Regarding Mr. Pomeroy's visit to Canada witness said that he thought the action was wrong and he would not have allowed it had he known of it in time. He had returned to Shanghai to find the business in a deplorable state, with no cash on hand and a tremendous accumulation of unpaid bills and drafts, while the overdraft at the bank was very high, some Tls. 21,000. The plaintiff had gone away in defiance of instructions and witness thought it would be very foolish to part with any more good money when Mr. Pomeroy wired for more.

The hearing was again adjourned.

Maniac Kills One, Hurts 3 With Axe

(China Press Service)

Concordia, Kansas, April 6.—An unknown man last night killed Theodore Tremblay, 15, with an axe, and severely hacked four of his brothers, three of whom will probably die as a result on the Tremblay farm near here.

The murderer burned the house and barn on the farm to ground and severely injured the father of the boys. The father was found, trussed-up and bleeding, in the yard after neighbors had rushed to the place and carried the four sons from the burning house.

Theodore's charred body was found in the burned barn's ruins. Tremblay said he had no enemies and no clue as to the identity of the murderer has been found.

Discovered Too Late

TOO often the failure of men to provide for their families is not discovered till their death. Property may not be fully paid for, debts may have accumulated, titles may be questionable, wills may be defective, or savings be inadequate. The consequences of such failures are often so serious that it is hard to see how men can be willing to take any chances.

IN such an important matter as this too great care cannot be exercised. The duty is one that a husband and father should be glad to perform—and to be sure that he had performed it.

THE one sure means for meeting this duty is life insurance. It is within reach of even moderate incomes. There is no other safe way whereby a man, for a small investment, can immediately create an estate that will fully protect his family.

Roof Facts

Many people test Roofing by bending or tearing it. Such tests are misleading. Toughness is no proof of good Roofing. In fact, it is usually a sign of insufficient saturation. On the other hand, don't conclude that much saturation is certain proof—it may be nothing but quick-drying oil.

Lighterage Company Wins Suit In British Court

Verdict In Damage Case Handed Down By Judge Grain Following Grounding Of Glaucus

Judgment was given yesterday by Judge Peter Grain in the British Supreme Court for Tls. 49,298 and costs in favor of the Shanghai Tug and Lighterage Co., Ltd. for salvaging the Glaucus, in the action brought against Messrs. Butterfield and Swire, the agents of the vessel.

Mr. McNeil appeared for the Tug Company and Mr. McLeod with Mr. Mancel Reece for the defendants.

In the early hours of the morning on August 22 the Glaucus went ashore on the Tungsha Spit, and the Shanghai Tug Company were instructed to render assistance. Accordingly that day certain tugs went to the assistance of the Glaucus, the operations of towing the Glaucus beginning on August 22 and concluding on September 1, when the Glaucus was towed off the bank into deep water by the St. Dominic, Alexandra and the Victoria.

A considerable part of the evidence alleged by the plaintiffs was admitted or accepted by the defendants. Beyond certain details of the operations which were not admitted, the chief points in the alleged facts put forward by the plaintiffs regarding the salvaging controverted by the defendants were the degree of danger, if any, to the Glaucus.

On September 7 the plaintiffs sent to the owners of the Glaucus their account of Tls. 55,000 for the salvaging of the vessel and they received a reply on September 10 that the account should be for towage and lighterage, implying that salvaging operations had not been performed.

AMOUNT OF RISK

In his judgment, Judge Peter Grain said that outside of whether the amount asked for, namely Tls. 55,000 for the operations performed by the Shanghai Tug Company was justified by the work carried out by them, to make it a case of salvage there must be some danger or apprehension of danger to the salvors. Continuing he said:

"It is impossible to say in this case that there was an entire absence of danger or apprehension of danger in the course of the operations. I further say that I am of opinion that the services rendered were salvage services. In deciding on the remuneration to be given in a case of salvage, there are many points to be considered: labor expended by salvors, skill shown by them, value of the property salved, danger to the ship and property exposed, risk and danger incurred by salvors and a number of other matters which as Vaughan Williams in Port Hunter L. R. states he is not going to be rash enough to try to catalogue.

"There is no doubt that the salvors did work on the business of getting the Glaucus off the sandbank from August 22 to September I. I must come to the conclusion that the work was done with the greatest despatch possible and conscientiously for a period of nine or ten days and that they used their best skill during that period to get the vessel off. The value of the property has been credited at between £500,000 and £800,000. There is ample authority that the value of the property saved must be taken into consideration, but as Vaughan Williams in Port Hunter held it must be treated reasonably and not too much weight given it."

CONDITIONS CITED

After stating that it was not necessary that the danger should be actual or imminent and absolute, the court held it was sufficient that at the time the assistance was rendered the ship was encountering bad weather which may have exposed her to serious damage or destruction. Typhoons were signalled daily. Taking the evidence as a whole it was impossible for him to see that there was no danger to the Glaucus and risk to the salvors. Going back to decisions as far back as 1834, Judge Peter Grain said that the remuneration claimed appeared to him to be extremely moderate.

Cathedral School Head Is Praised At Annual Meeting

High praise for achievements and service was given yesterday to Mr. E. P. Graham Barrow, Headmaster of the Cathedral School at the meeting of the Board of Governors of the School. The Very Rev. Dean C. J. F. Symonds presided at the meeting which was held at the Church House.

Mr. Graham Barrow said seventeen boys entered for the Cambridge examinations, in December, were now looking forward to the results. During 1923 thirty-two boys would be candidates.

Mrs. Henman, headmistress of the Girls' School, said that in December, 1920, there were 103 pupils on the school books, and in December last 147. Her pupils now number 160. All juniors passed the Cambridge tests.

The Chairman's proposal that the Governors should continue, for another five years, their contributions was seconded by Mr. Baker, and carried unanimously.

Executive committee vacancies caused by the death of Sir Everard Fraser and the absence of Mr. Duncan, were filled by appointing His Honor Judge Skinner Turner and the Rev. C. E. Spencer. Mr. Edney Page paid a high tribute to Mr. Graham Barrow's work in the Boys School. His painstaking labor and self-sacrifice richly deserved the thanks of the governors, the speaker said.

Olympic Theater

Altogether notable in the current moving picture offerings is the pretentious production "Man-Woman-Marriage" being presented at the Olympic Theater. The picture is one which holds the intense interest of onlookers from beginning to end.

The picture was staged under the direction of Alan Holubar, and was as star Dorothy Phillips, who is one of America's foremost screen favorites. Although of unusual film length the production, in nine reels, is extraordinary throughout for its beauty of setting and the multitude of players introduced. The story is one which holds the intense interest of onlookers from beginning to end.

Chita General Appeals To Patriotism Of Molchanoff

before commencing to talk in the language of machine-guns.

You and your officers are afraid of revenge because of your former errors? This is not true. Ask your officers whom we have recently taken prisoners. We cannot afford to give them the three pounds of bread which you promise to our prisoners, but we share with them our rations and all the medical supplies we have. Question the former Kolchak officers who are now with us fighting against you. Why do they fight? I do not think they fight to defend the Bolshevists and commissars; they fight for the very thing you are against—for the great motherland free of foreign intervention.

You are given several days to decide whether we are to continue shedding blood as enemies or talk as brothers of one great free nation.

There are too many graves on the hills, and if we continue our fight you will also find your grave there. Think over the matter, you Russian general, who has been the last to take up arms against the free revolutionary Russia and her child, the Far Eastern Republic.

In the name of the people do I guarantee to your officers and soldiers once more absolute safety in case you stop voluntarily the unnecessary resistance to the will of the people and lay down your arms. The precious blood of the Russian people forces me to appeal to you.

I do not cast my words in the air, nor will the bullets of the army of the Far Eastern Republic be cast in the air, if the struggle continues. I expect your answer urgently, for it is useless to waste much time in talking.—(Signed) Bliuher, Commander-in-Chief of the Army of the Far Eastern Republic.

CAPTAIN EVANS THRILLS CROWD WITH LECTURE

Packed House At Lyceum Hears Of Work Of Dover Patrol

Speaking to a house which was filled to its utmost capacity and illustrating his address with a truly wonderful collection of pictures, Capt. E. R. G. R. Evans, C.B., D.S.O., R.N., last night delivered his famous lecture on "The Dover Patrol" at the Lyceum.

The lecture, which was given by Captain Evans in Queen's Hall, London, where the first Lord of the Admiralty occupied the chair, has also been heard previously in Shanghai, thrilling its hearers in every paragraph. It was received last night with the utmost enthusiasm and it is to be regretted that there is not opportunity for another delivery of this intensely thrilling and appealingly human record of one of the most stirring phases of the war.

The lecture was delivered under the auspices of the Navy League and the speaker was introduced by Mr. A Brooke Smith, chairman of the Municipal Council. The entire proceeds, through the kind consent of Capt. Evans, are to be turned over to the Navy League, Shanghai Branch, Blue Jackets' Entertainment Fund.

Hundred Sailors At Navy Y.M.C.A. For Chinese Chow

More than 100 British sailors from the five British ships in the harbor were entertained at a "regular" Chinese dinner at the Navy "Y" last night.

The dinner was a long series of amusing incidents for regulation Chinese chow demands Chinese chop sticks and the sailors struggled manfully with the unfamiliar tools. The two British girls who acted as hostesses to the 10 sailors at each of the 12 tables held out for the chopsticks but the sailors overruled them, politely but firmly, and although forks were not forthcoming the "navvies" got their share of chow by resorting to the use of the serving spoons.

The tables were prettily decorated with flowers and the room itself was flagdraped and prettily lighted.

After dinner a moving picture, "Trail's End," a romance of British Columbia, was shown.

Captain Evans, of the Carlisle, was unable to be present because of his lecture engagement at the Lyceum but he sent thanks and congratulations to the Navy "Y" for the dinner and entertainment provided the sailors.

Fengtien Warlord Makes Strategic Move Near Peking

(Dah Tong News Bureau)

Peking, April 7.—Why the 19th division of Fengtien troops has suddenly been moved into Shanhaikwan was told in a formal communication addressed by General Chang Tso-lin to the Bureau of the General Staff and the Ministry of War. Chang stated that after securing the endorsement of President Hsu and Tsao Kun of Paotingfu, he had despatched these forces for the protection of the Metropolitan area.

These together with the troops at Nanyuan, he said, would be drilled together for precautionary purposes. Three more brigades arrived at Shanhaikwan today. The 27th division, which has completely passed within the Great Wall, will be stationed at Machang, pending negotiation with Tien Chung-yu of Shantung and Chang Wen-seng of Anhui for their distribution along the Tientsin-Pukow Railway.

The next strategic move of Mukden will be the resumption of the premiership by Liang Shih-yi, it is reported. Another demand will be for the retirement of Wu Pei-fu from the office of Deputy Inspector-General of Shantung, Chihli and Honan in order to diminish his influence in these provinces.

The current issue of "Israel's Messenger" reminds one of the approaching great Jewish festival of Passover. Prominence is given to the recent prize distribution to the pupils of the local Jewish school and interesting speeches by Mr. D. W. David Rabbi W. Hirsch and Headmaster John P. Jones occupy several pages, while the article of Mr. E. Salmon, honorary secretary of the school on the need of building a modern school to replace the present unhygienic and ill-equipped structure is written in a forceful manner. The correspondence which appeared in a local contemporary on Lord Reading's and Mr. Montagu's faith is reproduced in full with large portrait of Mr. Montagu and Mr. Lloyd George.

Monarchists In Vienna Parade

(Reuter's Service)

Vienna, April 6.—A great monarchist demonstration followed the Requiem Mass in the Cathedral for the ex-Emperor Karl. Crowds marched through the principal streets singing the old National Anthem and proceeded to the Parliament House where the President of the Chamber refused a request of a deputation to lower the flag to half mast in consequence of the opposition of some of the deputies.

Mounted Gendamerie cleared the streets after the crowds had refused to disperse.

First Baseball Practice Of Season Draws Record Squad Of New Candidates

Management Optimistic After First Showing Of Recruits For Most Successful Season In 1922; Gang Turns Out Again Today At 3 O'clock On Polo Grounds

The old baseball was started on its merry way yesterday afternoon on the ball grounds, when some two dozen brave candidates for 1922's nine came out for their first round or limbering up practice. The air was not warm, and a little breeze not helpful to glass arms was blowing, but a good workout was had by all.

A promising feature of the first day of practice was the record number of unknowns who announced that their hats were in the baseball ring. Fifteen strangers to local baseball fans were in uniform. On the whole they showed a good knowledge of the game, and several even stuck out with those little bits of diamond style that mark the player better than the ordinary.

Manager Gallop, Temporary Captain Bills and Hopkins, who was afraid to expose his bad leg to the weather watched the gang as they tossed the ball around and tried to stop 'em, and they all agreed that the season's success was cinched. Whereas a few weeks ago local magnates hoped for two good teams for the summer, they now are figuring on three or maybe four.

Two of the most welcome candidates that showed were Wall and Hirsh, both catchers of sufficient class to fill the hole left by the departure of Roeser, Hoag and Bristow. The catching department had only Griffith left from last year and the whole gang was worried. But Wall looks like a first string man at first glance and Hirsh will run him close.

If there were any pitchers in the crowd they kept themselves well under cover. Church, a southpaw who has been listed as a second sacker threw some, and he acted like he might step in and hurl a game. Phillips did not throw any. Wynn, another sure-enough slabnan was not out.

Of the others who showed signs there were Brattan, Miccia Olsen, Tuck, Wilhelmni and Payton. The other men confined themselves to more sem limbering exercises. The men out yesterday were, of the old-timers, Bills, S. F. Smith, Maloney, Hopkins, Gallop, Posner. The new men were Hubbard, Woods, Miccia, Swinehart, Church, Olsen, Brattan and Tuck, infielders; Wilhelmni, Robertson, Jenkins and Payton, outfielders; Wall and Hirsh, catchers and Phillips, pitcher.

The squad practices again this afternoon on the Polo field. The Swimming Club will be used as dressing rooms. All necessary paraphernalia is available. Manager Gallop urges that the other players in town come out today so that all may have an even start. The available men not yet out are Wynn, Holliday, Hoffman, Scott, Dennison, Arlt, Hendrickson, Pruitt, Irle, Nelson, C. J. Smith.

S'HAI INTERPORT HOCKEY XI TAKES LAST DRILL TODAY

Shanghai's interport hockey team which leaves early next week for Tientsin where matches will be played with Tientsin and North China will take its last workout this afternoon on the Polo Ground against a strong Police combination. The practice commences at 3:30 o'clock.

The selected team follows: J. P. Jones, goal; Cobb, Collacao, backs; Faers, Harvie, Tegetmeier, half backs; Remedios, Encarnacao, Morgan, Oliveira, Leitao, forwards. Reserve, Healey.

Mann was forced to give up hopes of making the trip due to the injuries he received in last week's match. Healey this afternoon will play in Tegetmeier's place, the latter already being in Tientsin awaiting the arrival of this team-mates.

The practice today will be forced to a fast pace to accustom the Shanghai men to greater speed than is customary here, because of the fact that the interport games in the north will be played on a hard mud ground, with play faster than ever seen in Shanghai.

GIANTS CHEWING MILEAGE TICKETS

They Are Buzzing Southward On Plenty Of Egg-Shaped Wheels

BY "BUGS" BAER

Another year dawns with its intricate hopes and complicated fears. New York starts in its new taxpaying season with one world and one league championship.

Two lumps of sugar couldn't make that any sweeter. The Giants are all set pretty for their Southern gyrations, and when they come back they should do more to the rest of the league than Henry Ford did to the hay and feed business.

The world champion Pullman refugees are a day out now, and the engineer is a lodge member. Been such a mild Winter North that some of the boys hate to go South when they could stay at home and overbid pinochle hands.

All the stars didn't slam the time clock at Pennsylvania station yesterday morning, but there are enough assorted fumblers on board to take care of any challenges received en route. In case South Bend, Ind., or Independence, Mo., pop up with official municipal defis swollen with civic pride, Eddie Brannick has made arrangements to drop off auxiliary teams on the misguided cities.

About one short dozen Giants are in solitary confinement now in Mrs. Pullman's velvet-lined jails, but other players will jump on en route like flies on Tanglefoot.

Judge McQuade and Jim Tierney checked in Jesse Burkett, trainer Ed Mackall, Pat Shea, Frank Frisch, Boland, Wendell, Gaston and Fitzpatrick at Penn [illegible].

One of the neighbors' children toined up at Philadelphia. His name is Black. We don't know his first name, but he hopes to make it as prominent as Wrigley's Spearmint in a few weeks.

Stop was established at Pittsburgh to hitch on refreshments in the shape of Malone and McFarland. Two juveniles who come as well recommended as the new minister of a village congregation.

Long about noon today, an avalanche of loose athletes will skid into their soft plush seats. The train catches Groh, Nehf, Dolly and Rosicka Barnes, Stengel, Dick Kinsella, Shinners, Dolan and Proctor at St. Louis.

Which just about constitutes a quorum. All the players are chipper and talking doubleheaders.

Dut to arrive at the training university Tuesday night. All the boys are sleeping, dining and tipping well.

Everybody reports progress, including the Pullman porters.

Breaks World's Record For 1¼ Mile Run

Joie Ray, the American one-mile champion runner, broke the world's record for the one-and-a-quarter-mile run, which stood for the past twenty-seven years, when he negotiated the distance in 5:33 3-5 at the Seventy-first Regiment A. A. Games, in New York. The former record of 5:38 4-5 was held by Tommy Conneff, of the New York A. C., and was made on September 2, 1895, at Bergen Park, New York.

KLEINMAN WHO BEAT KUMAGAE TO PLAY HERE SOON

Mr. D. C. Kleinman, who played last year in the English tennis championships, and expects to play some of Shanghai's best net men on his visit here this summer, recently beat Ichiya Kumagae, Japan's Davis Cup star 6-0, 6-3, at Singapore.

Spectators of the match say that Kleinman played magnificent tennis, keeping beautiful length throughout. After the singles Kleinman doubled up with Dean, also of Singapore against Kumagae and Kakamura and in the short time allowed for playing, due to the Japanese departure, took the match to 1-all, 6-3 and 2-6.

Kleinman, when he comes to Shanghai should furnish some interesting exhibitions against local tennis players. If he is good enough to best Kumagae who has beaten such men as Tilden and Johnston of America and Richards and Anderson of Australia, he will surely show local players such tennis as they have never before seen in this port.

Best Am'n Jockey To Ride In England

London, February 15.—Racing circles are awaiting with considerable interest the appearance on English courses of George Archibald, the American jockey, who has been engaged for the ensuing flat racing season. In recent years Archibald has done most of his riding in Germany, France and Spain and has ridden the horses of King Alfonso. Frank O'Neill, who was a contemporary in America and also in France, is quoted declaring Archibald "the best horseman in the world."

Semi-Final Race Trial Before Spring Meet To Be Run This Afternoon

Third Extra Race Meeting Of Shanghai Race Club Gives Chance For Every Class Of Racer To Try Its Form; Best Ponies Are Entered In Varied Program

The third extra race meeting of the Shanghai Race Club, almost the final trial before the big Spring Race Meeting, which will be held this afternoon on the City Track, has a good assortment of races, and a fair entry-list of ponies. Some of the best local ponies are entered in a hurdle, a steeplechase, a selling, three handicaps and three other running races.

The first race, the hurdle, goes to seven furlongs. The Prelate, the Morriss stable with Seafield, Harefield and Finchfield entered, with Typhoon offers good picking for the race goer. Twenty ponies will start. The steeplechase which goes twice around the course has Liability, the Prelate, Medina Sidonia, Djemnah and Old Bill entered with several other good ponies. Djemnah carries top weight at 162, while Old Bill is handicapped next heavily at 160. Medina Sidonia will carry 159 and Liability 155.

The first handicap running race of the day will be the fourth race, the Edinburgh handicap. Winsome and Hasty have their newest griffin The Robin entered and on the pony's past few performances the stable should get in the place money at least. Old Bill, if it misses a start in the jumping race should be somewhere up in front with Morriss' Lichfield making the third of the first trio.

The Lanark Selling Race, the sixth event at five furlongs has some good ponies out with the selling limit set at Tls. 500. Safety-light, Zaandam, Conqueror Dahlia and Kobe are out for the event with twenty-one others of good racing qualities. The race will be a good one with entrants fairly evenly matched.

The Glasgow handicap 'A' Class at a mile has Jet, Guilsand and The Heron and The Peacock competing with Co-insurance, Nelson, San Juan and others of the same class. In the "B" class of the same handicap The Copper Bird, Just for Luck, late Redskin, and the Ptarmigan stand out.

The final event of the day, the Perth Cup, at nine furlongs has Maresfield, Thomas a'Becket, The Copper Bird, The Heron, The Robin and Old Bill entered. The race should furnish good racing interest.

Dr. Wang Chief Speaker At Christian Students Session

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, April 4.—Delegates of student Christian associations of twenty-nine countries answered the roll-call at the opening session of the World's Student Christian Federation at Tsinghua College, three miles north of Peking, this afternoon. Dr. John R. Mott, Chairman of the world organisation, reversing the usual order, opened the convention with an address expressing the appreciation of the visiting delegates of the hospitality of their hosts, the Chinese student organisations; message of lofty sentiment from the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Dr. W. W. Yen, was then read by his representative, Councilior Tsao.

Dr. C. T. Wang, who came specially from Shantung to be present, closed the meeting with the most popular speech of the day: that of welcome on the part of the hosts to their visitors. Dr. Wang is vice-Chairman of the World Federation, as well as one of the leaders of the movement in China.

Dr. Mott's designation of the Conference as the "Gathering of the Nations" bids fair to become the watchword of the meeting. He pointed out that hope still exists for world reconstruction when, out of the nations who are distraught with internal difficulties and international apprehensions, such a gathering as this, representative of every people and race, could be brought together to lay plans for joint labor for the betterment of humanity. The importance of the teachings of Jesus Christ which inspire this effort, as the greatest uplifter of mankind, is again demonstrated.

The scenes upon the Tsinghua campus yesterday pressed home upon one in concrete form the meaning of Dr. Mott's expression, "The Gathering of the Nations." Chinese, addressing one another in every language and dialect under the Chinese heaven, Americans, French, British, Japanese, Siamese, American Indians, Korean, Turks, black Africans, Spaniards, South Americans, and, most picturesque of all, the Indian delegates in their native garb, were among those who filled the immense Tsinghua auditorium, seating 1,700, at the opening session. The Chinese delegates, who number about 600, occupied the galleries. Upon the stage upon one side sat Dr. Mott, Dr. C. T. Wang, D. David Yui, who also spoke briefly, Mr. T. C. Mei of Shanghai, and several other officials of the Federation; and opposite them four women secretaries, one Chinese, one French, one Indian and one Japanese, each in native costume.

Dr. C. T. Wang who quoted Confucious: "How pleasant it is when friends come from afar!" won a hearty applause in the beginning by saying that the audience could appreciate the gratification of the Chinese hosts in at last having their guests here in front of their eyes, after having extended and repeated an invitation to the Federation to meet in China at every convention since that held in Constantinople. Reconstruction, which, by the way, is Dr. Wang's slogan in Shantung, is the world's greatest need, said he, and Reconciliation is the first step toward reconstruction. The teachings of Christ offer the greatest incentive available to mankind for the work of reconstruction and service. At Dr. Mott's suggestion he repeated a portion of his talk in Chinese, and the demonstration that he is as good a speaker in "Kwan-hua" as in English surprised many.

The delegates have taken full possession of Tsing Hua campus for the week, most of the students having gone home on spring vacation. The students have most kindly turned over their dormitory rooms. A more ideal conference side could hardly be imagined. The business of the day is to be done before noon and after dinner; allowing the afternoons free for excursions to Peking and the Western Hills.

The expense of the convention in China has been almost entirely defrayed by the Chinese hosts, who have raised something like fourty thousand dollars for this purpose.

Special thanks have been expressed to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs for its assistance in procuring the use of Tsinghua campus, and to the Ministry of Communications for substantial reductions in rail fares of delegates.

Prominent Shanghailtes at the Convention include Dr. Rawlinson, Editor of the Christian Recorder, the National Y.M.C.A. Secretaries, Mr. T. H. Lee and Mr. T. C. Mei, the latter officers of the Federation.

Members Of Congress In Verbal Riot

(China Press Service)

Washington, April 6.—Representative Garner told the house that if he were permitted by the rules to speak what was in the mind of 434 out of 435 members in the house he'd say that Representative Blanton "is a disgrace to this house and ought to be kicked out." Garner's statement followed Blanton's defense agaist a newspaper article and threw the House into an uproar. The speaker ordered the sergeant at arms to prevent Garner and Blanton from coming to blows.

Blanton's speech which started the row dealt with supplies furnished Congressmen. Garner referring to Blanton declared: "It is my the firm conviction that this creature would debauch the virtue of his own family to accumulate wealth or put himself forward from a political standpoint.

"I have in mind an individual, not a man, a creature who is the commonest and biggest liar that ever spoke a word of English in this country."

Japanese Deny Mulcting China

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, April 4.—The Japanese Legation denies the reports of the Asiatic News Agency to the effect that Japan expected an enormous compensation from China as a result of the Shangtung settlement and that the thirty millions of dollars for the railroad would form only a pittance of Japan's claims in the coming Tsingtao conference. These reports are said to be deliberately and maliciously misleading.

Dr. Akiyama, civil governor of Tsingtao was quoted as saying Japanese interests had invested heavily in Tsingtao improvements and that he recommended that Tokio should grant to China a loan wholly apart from the railway which would require at least one hundred million Yen. This quotation asserts the statement was taken from the Japanese papers of a month ago and was garbled so that its original meaning was entirely different.

Dr. Akiyama, they said, has made no recent statement and no statement at any time to this effect.

Pushing On Vladivostok

MESSAGES from Japan indicate a dangerous state of things with respect to the advance of the Chita forces into the so-called neutral zone established by an agreement between the Japanese Military Command and the Zemstvo Government of the Maritime Province two years ago. This so-called neutral zone has never been recognised by the Government of the Far Eastern Republic, which is in no sense a successor of the Zemstvo Government of the Maritime Province and therefore is under no obligation to recognise any agreement made by that Government. The so-called neutral zone itself was established primarily for the benefit of the Japanese Military Command, before the movement for a unified Government for the Russian Far East had taken shape, and the neutral zone agreement cannot now be invoked when the conditions have completely changed. The doctrine rebus sic stantibus excludes such invocation.

The present circumstances are very simple. The people of the Far Eastern Republic, except a handful of reactionaries mostly refugees under the protection and very largely under the thumb of the Japanese Military Command in Vladivostok, are determined that the whole of the Russian Far East, except the Kamchatka region, which still remains part of Soviet Russia, shall be unified under the one Government of the Far Eastern Republic. Over and over again, as the newspapers of the past two years have recorded, reactionary groups have, with Japanese assistance, launched expeditions against the Chita Government, and invariably these expeditions have come to grief, partly through defeat at the hands of the Chita forces, but very largely through the persistant opposition of the Partizan forces, which represent and consist of the inhabitants of the various localities, who have thus shown their determination to have no such government as the reactionaries would impose on the region.

The authority of the Government of the Far Eastern Republic has never been so unquestioned over so large an area as at the present time. The reactionary expedition against Chita, launched with Japanese assistance a few weeks ago, has completely failed. The reactionary forces, after some minor initial successes, have been driven back into and very largely through the so-called neutral zone, and the Chita forces have pursued them, harrying them in flank and rear almost to within the pseudo-sanctuary of Vladivostok. Naturally, as the so-called neutral zone was none of the Chita Government's making, no respect has been paid to it. That this would be the case the Japanese authorities were informed by a very clearly expressed note from Mr. Yanson, Minister for Foreign Affairs of the Far Eastern Republic. In his note Mr. Yanson stated that the Chita Government expected no interference with the movement of Chita troops within the so-called neutral zone by the Japanese Military Command, and reminded the Japanese authorities that they themselves had on many occasions, some of which Mr. Yanson specified, disregarded even their own fiction of a neutral zone. In fact, the Japanese Military Command has never regarded the neutral zone as binding on itself and only as binding on anybody else when it suited the whim of the command.

In accordance with the declaration of Mr. Yanson, the Chita forces have pushed into the so-called neutral zone and have driven the Kappalist forces beyond the zone. There is no reason whatever why the Chita forces should not push on until Vladivostok falls into their hands. Unless the Kappelists receive a great deal of help from the Japanese Military Command, the fall of Vladivostok into the hands of the authorised forces of the Far Eastern Republic cannot be long delayed, and the authority of the Chita Government will then extend throughout the whole of the Russian Far East except the Kamchatka region, which is part of Soviet Russia and northern Sakhalin which is still occupied by Japan.

Meanwhile, Mr. Yanson's declaration stands. It is not, however, in our belief, to be regarded in any sense as provocative or as a challenge. Messages from Tokio indicate that this interpretation is being placed on it by the Japanese press, doubtless at the instigation of the Japanese military authorities. There are all the signs in the attitude of the Japanese press of a sinister force at work trying to work up amongst the Japanese people a jingo spirit, trying to prepare the Japanese public mind for the idea of an "inevitable" war. The ground is being prepared, and with the Diet out of session the direction of affairs will rest entirely with the militarists who control and largely compose the Japanese Government. The Japanese people are not so easily led by the nose as they used to be, or as the militarists would like. The Nikolaievsk incident was exploited to the full with the object of creating a unanimous public sentiment in favor of a Siberian war. What the exploitation of that incident led to in actual fact was a great deal of adverse public interest in the whole Siberian policy of the Government, and so strong was this feeling that even the militarists were obliged to draw in their horns. They now see themselves with no excuse left for aggression in Siberia, and hence the agitation against the advance of the Chita forces through the so-called neutral zone, and the truculent insolence to Mr. Yanson.

Part of the campaign of agitation consists of hints that if there should be an armed clash between the forces of the Far Eastern Republic and the Japanese forces, in the so-called neutral zone, the Japanese will break off the Dairen negotiations. This is intended to be a threat, but it surely does not greatly alarm the Chita Government. The Dairen negotiations are frequently brought to a deadlock on the subject of the withdrawal of the Japanese Expeditionary Force from the territory of the Far Eastern Republic. If those forces are prepared to do the only proper thing, namely, to stand aside and leave the settlement of the destiny of the Far Eastern Republic to a trial of strength between the Chita forces and the reactionaries, the issue will soon be decided, and if reason counts for anything in the Japanese mind, it will be seen that there is no reason whatever left for the maintenance of any Japanese troops on any territory formerly part of the Russian Empire. Wherever the Chita Government has control, there is law and order, security of life and property, regular administration of civil affairs and complete immunity from the pogroms and massacres that have punctuated reactionary rule wherever it has existed in the Russian Far East. As the professed object of the continued presence of the Japanese Expeditionary Forces in Siberia is security of life and property, and maintenance of law and order, the accomplishment of that object by the forces, civil and military, of the Far Eastern Republic will relieve the Japanese Military Command of any necessity whatever to remain in Siberia, and the withdrawal of the Japanese forces need be only a question of a few days, or weeks at most, and any real reason for deadlock at the Dairen Conference will disappear.

If the Japanese authorities are really so anxious as their newspapers would have us believe about the Dairen Conference they have it in their own power to remove all difficulties by abandoning all pretensions about the so-called Neutral Zone, recognising the logic of facts, placing no difficulties in the way of the advancing Chita forces, affording no assistance to the forces of reaction, and, immediately the Chita forces occupy Vladivostok, handing the administration of that port over to the representatives of the Government of the Far Eastern Republic and of the inhabitants of the Vladivostok district.

Mr. Yanson's note, we reiterate, is not a threat. It is merely a declaration, and rightly regarded it opens for the Japanese a way of graceful retreat. Neither the Government nor the people of the Far Eastern Republic desire anything but peace, but they are not prepared for peace at any price. They will not provoke a conflict, but the mild language of Mr. Yanson's note should not be read as an indication that they will not support one that is deliberately thrust upon them. The spirit of the Russian people is perfectly indicated in Gen. Bliuher's note, which we publish today on page one.

Wirth's Bold Move Saves His Cabinet

Berlin, Feb. 11 (Associated Press).—Chancellor Wirth has met one of the most critical Parliamentary situations of his career by forcing a "showdown" with the Reichstag in connection with the impending vote on four resolutions censuring the Cabinet for its policy during the railroad strike.

The Coalition parties failed to protect the Chancellor by sending a supporting resolution to the President's desk, thereby leaving him at the mercy of the four opposition motions proposed by the Nationalists, the German People's Party, the Independent Socialists and the Communists.

Although each of these resolutions was certain to be defeated by the votes of the present Government bloc, it was realised that collectively their effort would have spelled Parliamentary disaster for Dr. Wirth, as the moral stigma carried by them would not have been neutralised by the indirect majority support given to the Chancellor by the Clericals, the Majority Socialists and the Democrats, who could muster sufficient votes to defeat the opposition's attack on the Cabinet.

Visible impatience with this passive attitude on the part of his principal support, brought Chancellor Wirth to his feet just before the hostile resolutions were put to a vote today. Rising from his seat at the Government bench, his voice quivering with emotion, the Chancellor in a brief but impassioned plea demanded that the Reichstag give him a tangible and unequivocal expression of its confidence, without which he and his Cabinet colleagues could no longer conduct the affairs of the Government. A negative result of the vote on the four opposition resolutions, the Chancellor declared, would suffice to make the Cabinet position untenable.

This unexpected attitude dumfounded both the opposition and the Government parties, and the latter scurried about in a hasty effort to draft a resolution of direct approval. The House, however, finally voted to defer balloting until Wednesday. Dr. Wirth, it is asserted, can safely count on a decisive vote of approval of his railway strike policy.

The session supplied a second sensation when the Independent Socialist leader, Herr Dittman, demanded an investigation of Hugo Stinnes because of Herr Stinnes's alleged attempt to barter the German railway system to an English banking syndicate in return for a gold loan. Stinnes's friends in the Reichstag came to the magnate's assistance and action was postponed.

Although railway traffic is from 30 to 70 percent normal, it will be many days before full service, interrupted by the strike last week, can be resumed, owing to serious damage to rolling stock. It is officially announced that 3,000 engines are out of commission.

Stinnes To Seize Train Advertising

German Liberals Protest At His Exclusive Contract With Government

Berlin.—Facing the possibility of Hugo Stinnes coming into absolute control of all advertising space in the trains, stations and general property of the German railroads on April 1, some of the Socialist and Liberal papers are protesting vigorously and demanding to know if a contract signed Feb. 4, 1918, about nine months before the German political revolution, by Herr von Breitenbach, then Imperial Minister of Public Works and Transportation, with the Reimar Hobbing Publishing Company (since reported to be a Stinnes concern) is to be considered binding upon the Republican Government. Under this contract, Herr Stinnes's concern will not only have a fifteen-year monopoly, beginning April 1, of the advertising space on the Government railroads, but it will have the sole right to distribute reading matter in the trains.

What this means in German political campaigns is pointed out by the Berlin Freiheit in an article showing how the German People's Party (the big business party in which Herr Stinnes plays the leading part) will be able to plaster every car and waiting room with its campaign posters ad lib., while other parties will have to beg permission to tell the travelers how they propose to "save the country." Furthermore, if the clause limiting the distribution of printed matter in the trains is taken advantage of by the concessionaire the only newspapers offered to the traveling votes will be those owned by Stinnes or supporting his policies.

The employes of the Stinnes concern are to be carried free on the railroads, as is also to be the case with the advertising matter itself. In return for these privileges the advertising company is to turn over 50 percent of its gross annual receipts up to 2,000,000 marks to the Government and 60 percent of any receipts exceeding that sum. If, after five years, the Government doesn't receive more than 500,000 marks per year as its share, the contract may be denounced upon one year's notice.

Shortly after this pact became known to the public in 1918 there was considerable excitement over it, and it was discussed in the press and the Reichstag, but the noise soon died down, and only with the approach of its coming into effect has the subject become live again.

In the meantime, Herr Stinnes has come out with an indirect denial that he owns about 100 of the leading German daily papers, as against 160 Social Democratic, 48 Independent Socialist and 32 Communist dailies. There are about 4,000 daily papers in Germany, of which 81 have a circulation of more than 100,000. The combined circulation of the Socialist papers of all shades is put at 3,500,000, against the some 26,000,000 of the bourgeois press. The Stinnes statement, as given out through the Westfalische Politischen Nachrichten, reads:

"Herr Stinnes is the owner of the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung in Berlin, of the Kladderadatsch and of the Deutsche Warte, printed by the Buchsenstein Company. Stinnes is not interested in any other German papers. The newspapers commonly characterised as Stinnes organs are those in which the 'Vera' has taken a financial interest. The 'Vera' is an organisation founded by industrialists for supporting and becoming interested in newspapers and magazines, and it is probably interested to a greater or lesser degree in about 100 German newspapers. The Chairman of the Control Committee and political leader of the 'Vera' is Dr. Hugenberg, the German Nationalist, who is also Chairman of the Control Committee of the Telegraph Union [a news agency]. It always occurs that whenever the 'Vera' gets interested in a provincial paper the rumor goes the rounds that Herr Stinnes has bought the paper, whereas in reality it is a matter of the 'Vera,' which is under German Nationalist control. It seems necessary to explain this circumstance so as to put an end to the Stinnes legend once for all."

German Liberal papers are inclined to jeer at this explanation. They point out that Stinnes's role in the organisation of the "Vera" is so important that the fact of Dr. Hugenberg being its public head is not likely to deceive any one as to who is its real controller. Furthermore, they note that the differences between the Junker Nationalists and the Stinnes group are not so serious as to prevent their working together against the common end—German Democracy.

The German Post Office was maintaining air mail service on fourteen routes, covering 5,048 kilometers, and had established air connections with London, Rotterdam, Amsterdam, Kovno, Riga, Reval, Danzig and Memel at the end of 1921, according to data found in a memorandum issued by the Ministry of Posts and quoted from in the Berliner Tageblatt. It was also operating 445 auto mail lines, with 715 passenger buses. The report tells of a great increase during the past two years in the use of the wireless telegraph and the rapid extension of the telephone service.

With a total of 292,900,000 metric tons, the German coal and coke output in 1921 was only 4,700,000 tons behind that of 1913, according to definite figures found in the Berlin Vorwarts. The increase over the production in 1920 was 18,700,000 tons, the biggest gain being made in the production of brown coal, which rose from 111,900,000 tons to 123,000,000. Brown coal is calculated to be worth only one-third as much as anthracite for fuel purposes. The 1921 production of anthracite was 136,200,000 tons, against 131,300,000 in 1920. Coke rose from 25,200,000 tons in 1920 to 27,900,000. In 1913 the coal mines in Alsace-Lorraine and the Saar Basin were German.

The Shop and Office Employes' Council of the Krupp Works at Essen, through a resolution printed in the Berlin Freiheit has administered what is considered in German labor circles as a death blow to the Krupp Company's plan to sell stock to its some 100,000 employes, announced with great eclat last December. The council takes the same adverse stand toward profit-sharing through stock ownership as was taken by the Essen local of the Metal Workers' Union and reported by cable. It condemns the scheme as calculated to undermine the men's solidarity in time of possible strikes, points out that the workers could not obtain enough stock to exercise any influence upon the company, and advises them not to accept the Krupp officials' offer. During the business year of 1920-21 the special secret service to guard against theft instituted by the Krupp Company in Essen some time ago reported 659 cases of stealing company property to the value of 2,500,000 marks, reports the Berliner Tageblatt of Jan. 8. Stolen articles amounting to 1,440,060 marks were recovered and 240 persons were convicted and sentenced to short jail terms and light fines.

Countess Eleonore von Schlieffen, her son, Count Hans Heinrich, and George Rossel and Hans Stenzke were found guilty by a jury in Gorlitz of having plotted to murder Count Wilhelm von Schlieffen, a cousin of Hans Heinrich, in order to get his property, and sentenced to prison for two years, a year and a half, three years and a year and three months, respectively. Vorwarts comments sarcastically upon the lightness of the sentences and opines that the Gorlitz judge must have been under the influence of the old awe before the "vons und zus," and also of his class position.

Four ex-members of the Red Guard maintained by the short lived Communist Government of Bavaria in the Spring of 1919 were found guilty by a Munich court of having illegally executed another Red Guard who had been condemned to death by a revolutionary tribunal. Three of the former Red Guards were sentenced to three years in prison, while the other got one year and a half. A fifth defendant was acquitted.

Central China Post And Reuter's

The Central China Post, published at Hankow, has discontinued using Reuter's telegraphic service after a long carried out dispute over the rate paid for the service, and in a two column leading article in the issue of April 4 presents its side of the case to its readers.

The Post asserts that when Reuter's raised the price of its service to double its former rates some time ago the Post found itself unable to meet the increase. The additional cost of the service was prorated among the English newspapers in Peking, Tientsin and Shanghai, but the Post had to stand the full increase alone in Hankow, it asserts.

The Post offered a compromise, by suggesting that Reuter's send only the amount of news covered by rates at that time, offering to do without the increased service, but the offer was refused by Reuter's and on April 1 the service was stopped.

The Post remarks that the telegrams were public property in Hankow anyway because individual subscribers received the service for $10 a month, and the Post is now using United States naval Radio news, obtained from American boats at Hankow in lieu of Reuter's, as well as organising their own service in China.

The Week's Market Report

In their weekly report on the Shanghai Piece-Goods Trade, Messrs. Noel, Murray and Company write as follows:

Cotton.—In Liverpool cotton has hardly changed this week, Spot Good Middlings being quoted at 10.66d. May at 10.21d. and July at 10.09d. Bengals are up to 7.80d. and Egyptians unchanged at 17.75d. Indian cotton is still advancing in Bombay and Rs. 351, Rs. 404 and Rs. 463 are the prices for Bengals, Oomras and Broach, respectively. Yesterday New York prices stood at some points over those of the previous week, 18.05 cents for Spot, 17.91 for May, 17.25 for July, 17.61 for October, 16.98 for December and 16.90 cents for January.

Home Markets.—There is no change in the quotations for Hornby's and Calvert's cloths, namely 16-3d. and 20-6d. and Manchester still maintains a strong upper lip.

Local Market.—Things have fallen very flat and in most offices there has been little or no business doing. The crop of rumors has been plentiful and these have got to the ears of the dealers, who have become very shy and cautious in consequence.

Some houses have done business in goods to arrive; the quantities sold have not been great, but advantage has been taken of concessions offered and several orders have been placed for special lines.

Deliveries of locally made cloths have been good and stocks of these have been kept down to next to nothing. It will also be noticed from recent lists of deliveries that large quantities of goods have been going into consumption. Take for instance American staples; the 18,310 pieces of Shirtings and Sheetings delivered this week more than exhausts the reputed supply and of Drills, Jeans and Flannels 10,345 pieces only remain.

Financial.—Sycee and Bars in stock have fallen by nearly 2 millions to Tls. 29,724,000, but Dollars have increased in supply 15 lakhs, to $32,900,000. Of these totals, the native banks hold Tls. 9,470,000 and $17,720,000.

Yarn.—The Indian market here is very quiet and we hear of only one sale of 100 bales, but there has been some enquiry for Locals, of which about 7,000 bales have been contracted for at an advance of 2 to 3 taels; 4,100 bales have been sold to the bundle dealers.

Auctions.—46,399 pieces were sold this week. Grey Shirtings generally weakened and the same was the case with the White Shirtings until today when a few of Yuen Fong's chops shewed some animation; a lot of them, however, did not. All the Bleached T-Cloths, Jeans and White Sheetings declined. Turkey Reds with few exceptions gave way and Velvets were barely steady. One chop of Bleached Lawns declined and one advanced, all the Dyed section was very weak and prices give way almost all through.

ROSENFELD REPORT

In their weekly report in the cotton market, Messrs. A. B. Rosenfeld and Son write as follows:

China Cotton:—We have had a firm market during the past week with prices showing an advance of Tl. 1.00 as compared with last week's level. Receipts from the interior marts to date are very small with no indications of any improvements in the near future. Demand, however, is fairly brisk for the actual cotton with limited offerings. The chief interest from now on will be centered on the planting of the new crop, preparatory work in this connection commencing within the next three weeks and we shall continue to report on the progress bi-weekly as heretofore.

As to the future trend of the market, we think the Bears have had a sufficiently long pull at the pitcher, and that prices must advance further. We would therefore strongly recommend buying on easy markets.

Yarn:—We make the undertone very firm, deliveries healthy, as a matter of fact, local and interior marts stocks are practically bare and mills well sold ahead. We therefore still adhere to our opinion that no radical decline can be looked forward to for the coming future.

SPUNT AND COMPANY

Messrs. J. Spunt and Company write as follows in their cotton market report.

China Cotton:—Although the business transacted was comparatively small, prices continued very steady throughout the past week under review. Stocks of the local staple have nearly reached exhaustion point and the prices demanded for whatever there is remaining of the old crop are on such a basis as to make it more profitable for spinners to use a greater proportion of Mid-Americans and Indians henceforth till the advent of the new season crop.

The general planting for the new crop will begin within a fortnight and it is reported that the acreage will be about 30 percent larger than that of last year so that with favorable weather conditions during the growing season a larger yield, more in consonance with the increased domestic spindleage, may be looked forward to. However, as the cotton plant is subject to many vicissitudes before the full measure of its fruit is ascertainable it is for this reason very difficult to formulate at this time, any prognostications and any such attempt will have to be relegated to the time when the growing process is in full swing. Tone of the market, Steady.

FILET LACE

Messrs. Industrial Export (China) Company write as follows in their report on the lace market:

Although a few enquiries and orders have been received, prices are still easy and best quality filet laces have been done at 1.8 per mesh. Inferior goods are offered at 1.3 but with no buyers. The market is still quiet and lower prices may be expected.

Irish crochet laces are as last reported, with practically no enquiries and prices are therefor on the easy side.

PONGEE SILK

The China Merchants Pongee Association write as follows in their report on the pongee silk market of Chefoo.

Our Chefoo head office under date of April 1 reports as follows:

The market has passed another week of inactivity and has closed very weak. With the exception of the Australian market the other world market seem very quiet. Our market is exceedingly depressed on account of the inactivity and prices of all grades presently in stock are expected to decline.

HAIRNET

Messrs. Yannoulatos Bros. (China) write as follows in their report on the hairnet market of Chefoo.

Our Chefoo head-office under date of April 1 reports as follows:

Further weakness was shown in the market during the week. There was a little demand from America for Double mesh capnets stocks of which are easily to be obtained.

Our Tsinanfu office reports under date of March 26 that the workers there are making only double mesh nets and this is likely to cause a shortage of single nets in the market.

Ziangbe Rubber Co. Meeting

The annual general meeting of the Ziangbe Rubber Company was held yesterday afternoon at the offices of the secretaries and general manages, Messrs. J. A. Wattie and Company.

The Chairman's speech was as follows:

Gentlemen, The Report and Accounts having been in your hands for the prescribed period, I will with your permission take them as read. The year under review has been the most difficult one in the history of the rubber plantation industry, but, if you have studied the accounts carefully, I think you will agree with me that we have a great deal to be thankful for in having come through a very trying period so well.

This result has only been rendered possible by the exercise of the most rigid economy and the closest supervision and our best thanks are due to the two managers and their staffs and to the agents in Java for the very efficient manner in which they have administered the affairs of the estates. In spite of the drastic cutting down of expenditure, the estates are reported to be in first class condition and not to have suffered in any way from the economies that were put into force.

During the year both estates were put into alternate day tapping with most gratifying results as regards costs and the health of the trees and in addition crop restriction was continued; had it not been for this, we could have harvested at least 850,000 lbs. instead of only 616,432 lbs. Crop restriction will continue until the rubber market is again in a sound paying condition, whilst alternate day tapping is so favorably reported on, that on most estates, I think, daily tapping is now or soon will be a thing of the past.

Our cost of production was very materially reduced from 10.31 pence in 1920 to 8.80 pence F. O. B. and this current year promises a still further reduction. The rubber sold fetched only 10.88 pence per lb. compared with 17.20 in 1920, an enormous difference and one that makes me all the more pleased that the accounts show up so well against such adverse conditions.

A cover plant known as Mimosa invisa was established on both estates during 1921, and both managers speak very highly of it as a killer of weeds and lallang and as a fertiliser of the soil, disadvantages may develop in time, but for the present the Managers have only good words to say when reporting on its properties. Labor on the whole was sufficient for all works and the health of the coolies is reported as normal.

Now if you will turn to the Accounts of the Dutch Company, you will see that Capital Expenditure was practically negligible.

The Working Account shows a profit of Guilders 38.417.43 transferred to the profit and loss account, which, after providing for income tax and reserve, interest and the transfer of Guilders 37,135.91 for agency fees and selling commissions to the Shanghai company, the result of the year is a loss of Guilders 10,587.02. After deducting this amount from Guilders 16,613,86 brought forward from 1920, there remained F.6,026.84 which your directors have dealt with as set forth in the report.

The Shanghai Company's accounts are simple and need no explanation. The profit for the year is Taels 11,322.86, which added to the sum brought forward from last year leaves a balance of Taels 29,378.85 to the credit of profit and loss account which your directors recommend be carried forward. After allowing for all monies owing and providing Reserves for Taxes, the surplus of liquid assets over Cash Liabilities of the Dutch and Shanghai Companies combined amounts to Taels 19,903.39, none too strong a position for a Company of this size but enough I hope to see us through any difficulty we may encounter during the current year.

That is all I have to say, gentlemen, but, before formally proposing the adoption of the report and accounts, I shall be pleased to answer to the best of my ability any questions you may wish to ask.

The following resolutions were passed:

That the Directors' Report and Statement of Accounts as presented be passed; that Mr. A. J. Welch be re-elected a Director of the Company; that the appointment of Mr. G. Grayrigge as a Director of the Company be confirmed, and that Messrs. Lowe, Bingham & Matthews be re-elected Auditors for the ensuing year.

SUPER-DURABLE FLAT PAINT
FLAT WALL FINISH

A perfect Paint of smooth surface for Interior Wall Coating

The surface obtainable with this paint is smooth and flat, i.e., it is not a grainy, dead, lifeless finish, but of a velvety texture. It dries in a reasonably quick time, so that work can be carried out effectively, yet has the property of remaining open long enough to enable the worker to cover a large surface of wall without making laps or edges.

Excellent results with Super Durable Flat Finish are easily obtained, irrespective of the skill of the user, and an elaborate preparation of the surface is usually quite unnecessary.

Super Durable Flat Finish has been tried on non-absorbent surfaces of all kinds and where distemper and oil paint have proved prone to shell or flake off, it has always adhered. It gives a lasting finish of surprising beauty.

1 Imperial Gallon covers about 130 square yards one coat.

Spot and forward bar silver were each up ⅛d. in London yesterday. The New York price declined to 65⅝ cents, and the London-New York cross rate is unchanged at 439.

The official quotations here today were unchanged from yesterday. Our local market was steady throughout the day with very little business passing.

Business in Sterling was done at rates varying between 3-4 and 3-4 and 1-16.

Gold dollars were done at 73⅝ April and 73¼ May-June. There were at all times good sellers at a fraction below these rates and good buyers at a fraction higher.

The Continent sold silver in London yesterday and America bought. The London and New York silver markets are both reported as steady.
